

Business Leaders of Minneapolis

Pilar Oppedisano manages a team of investors and bankers who advise high-net-worth families, foundations, and endowments. She's been a leader in the financial world since 2006 and spent six years at General Mills in Minneapolis, managing various multi-million dollar brands. Pilar uses this experience to advise her clients on every aspect of their wealth and ensure they are making thoughtful choices for their family today and for generations to come.

"Our job is to bring best in class advice to our clients. Yes, we do all of the things that come to mind when you think about wealth management: planning, banking, investing and lending. But what really sets us apart is our ability to help our clients articulate their family's values and goals and ultimately help them establish and execute a plan for their legacy. Our clients find peace of mind when they hire us, knowing that there are so few situations we haven't seen in the Private Bank and that their families will directly benefit from our many years of experience and expertise."

Using a thoughtful and consultative manner, Pilar's team suite of services are designed to address nearly all of the wealth management issues their clients face. "Gaining the trust of some of the most successful families in the state of Minnesota is an honor and we take the responsibility seriously."
